

With Robert's love of being on the water came a passion for many related activities: sailing, boating, shrimping, water skiing, and most especially fishing. One of his prize catches was a 6.75 pound beauty, whose picture was prominently displayed at both his house and his parents' house. But his biggest catch by far was when he hooked Joanna in the lip! As he performed impromptu surgery by the pond, he grumbled about having to ruin his favorite lure by cutting it out of her mouth. He later claimed it was to distract her from the pain ... although we're not sure because he'd often go to dangerous links to retrieve a snagged lure!

Reel in a pack of Goldfish to celebrate Robert's fish tales.
