

We're actually not sure when Snickers became Robert's favorite candy, but surely he snacked on some in college, so we're putting them here! 😊 He was a huge fan of the nutty, nougatty goodness, capping off many a meal with a fun-sized bar. So when it was a present-giving occasion, what did we give him? SNICKERS! King-sized, minis, almond ones, peanut butter ones. We even gave him one that was three feet long! While he was never surprised that one of his presents was a bag of Snickers, he always seemed genuinely excited to have more for his stash.

Grab one of Robert's favs because Snickers satisfies you!
